

AFA's Special Edition Care Connection Webinar

Making Advance Care Planning Easier

This webinar will provide an overview of: the evolving advance care planning (ACP) field; practical advice for clear communication principles concerning ACP; and the creation of ACP tools for culturally diverse older adults with limited health literacy and cognitive impairment. This session will also discuss the evidence-based Prepare For Your Care ACP program and tools that can be used in the clinical and community environment to promote ACP engagement.

Dr. Rebecca Sudore is a geriatrician, palliative medicine physician, and clinician investigator. She also directs the Innovation and Implementation Center in Aging & Palliative Care (I-CAP) and the Vulnerable populations for Aging Research Core of the NIA-funded Pepper Center. Dr. Sudore conducts research to improve advance care planning and medical decision making for diverse, vulnerable older adults.
